

Energy Distribution

Alia Lescoulie

January 3, 2022

1 Configurations and Weights

For molecules in a system there is a probability that it will exist in a given energy state. In a system any individual molecule can exist in states with energies from ϵ_0 to ϵ_1 where $\epsilon_0 \equiv 0$